Ms Heike Schnell

Services Provided

Clothing Manufacturers - Vestuário - Fabricantes

Company Description

Launched in 2009 by Heike Schnell, a passionate yogista and mother of three who found it difficult to find clothes for her yoga class that combined fashion, comfort and the eco-friendly aspect. Wellicious was set up with a mission to create eco-premium performance apparel for the growing number of individuals interested in sustainable, healthy living and being active but who do not want to sacrifice style for practicality.

Today our signature style acknowledges changing trends and Wellicious not only creates yoga clothing but also designs eco-friendly lifestyle clothes and well-being accessories. Our aim is to provide more versatile, stylish and feminine clothing that can easily be integrated into everyday life, taking women from morning lattes to evening Pilates. Our leggings and yoga pants are no longer restricted to studio classes; instead they can be worn throughout the day with a fancy jacket or a pair of boots to work, to go out with friends or to collect the children from school.

All of our collection is ethically made in Europe from super-soft, long-lasting, natural and organic fabrics. Quality is everything to us. Our garments are expertly made to flatter your shape and look great in daily activities, at the spa or travelling.

Furthermore, in 2014 Wellicious added an activewear range which is made out of recycled fibres and organic cotton to complement its lifestyle clothes as more and more individuals combine their yoga practice with other sport routines. Today Wellicious is one of the only brands to provide customers with an organic seamless range and green polyamide range, perfect for activewear and sports and with 90% of the collection made with eco-friendly, natural fabrics, it is a pioneer in the fashion industry. The brand can be seen internationally around the globe; from luxury department stores in Paris to celebrities such as Selena Gomez, Naomi Watts and Stacy Keibler in Hollywood.

Wellicious is a London-based company. All of our products can be bought online or from a selected list of international stockists.
